“Our mission is to offer unparalleled health and wellness services to people across the country, and onboarding more partners is one step towards reaching our vast population. Through strategic partnerships with reputable diagnostic centres, we can service more patients and offer reliable radiology and pathology testing,” said Mr. Atul Gandhi, CEO-Founder, Seva At Home.

“We take great pride in our network—before we onboard any new partner, due diligence is done to ensure that they meet the stringent Seva At Home standards and that they are equipped to meet the customer’s requirements,” said Mr. Ankur Rai, Business Development Manager, Seva At Home.

“The diagnostic centres that are part of our network are equipped with the latest in healthcare technology and employ technicians who have undergone intensive training. Our vision is to ensure that everyone across the country has access to affordable and comprehensive healthcare and wellness services. We have seen how regular testing can reduce the burden of chronic diseases, and empower people to make healthier decisions. Along with this, companies can leverage our extensive network to safeguard their own employees no matter where they are based, and make the workplace a healthier one,” said Mr. Atul Kishore, Chief Revenue Officer, Seva At Home.
