Seva At Home to Support Jubilant Bhartia Foundation's CSR Activity as They Extend Partnership

Seva At Home and Jubilant Bhartia Foundation to station medical staff at mobile dispensaries at village camps sponsored by different companies carrying out CSR activity.

Nashua, New Hampshire (2 June, 2022): Seva At Home and Jubilant Bhartia Foundation (JBF) have announced that they will be jointly stationing medical staff at mobile dispensaries in certain villages where CSR activity is being carried out by various corporates. Individuals visiting these health camps can consult with medical staff and doctors posted at these mobile dispensaries as a part of this partnership.

Mobile dispensaries can help create more access to healthcare, especially in villages where quality services are either too far or not available at all. The CSR activity being carried out by corporates and JBF will be well supported by the Seva At Home on-site medical team.

“Our mission has always been to drive social change and inculcate a culture of health. We have created this community health improvement project with a prime focus on the treatment of vulnerable populations including women, children, elderly and people with disabilities. These Community health camps cater to the seasonal diseases and minor ailments along with consultation and test or referrals for TB, pneumonia, diarrhoea, and other such illnesses which can be cured at the primary health facility level. We are proud to be implementing this project in association with Seva At Home, and together, along with our various project partners, hope to make a difference,” said Mr. Vivek Prakash, Head and Vice President-CSR, Jubilant Bhartia Foundation.

“After working with the Jubilant Bhartia Foundation for previous collaborations, we're excited to extend this partnership by supporting them as they further commit to protecting the health of the community. Both Seva At Home and Jubilant Bhartia Foundation, and the project partners, have the common mission of ensuring that quality healthcare is available to everyone across the country, and this is another move in that direction,” said Mr. Atul Kishore, CRO, Seva At Home.
